Hello Karen,

Karen Boswell put us in touch at one point regarding some errors and requested changes in the HPV Summary report. Are you the current contact? If not, please let me know whom I should contact; if so, please assist with the following.

Looking at the November 21, 2003 HPV Summary Report, some updates were made but additional corrections are needed. For now I'll address one SPI consortium and what I hope are the quick fixes:

SPI Epichlorohydrin Task Group - Epichlorohydrin, and SPI Epichlorohydrin Task Group -1,2,3-Trichloropropane

- Page 1 - AGA Chemicals was added to the SPI consortium for epichlorohydrin sponsorship, but under full commitment to HPV. This chemical is being sponsored under that consortium under ICCA (see page 256). Please move this under full commitment to ICCA.

- Page 137 - Resolution Performance Products LLC appears for both epichlorohydrin and 1,2,3-trichloropropane, but under full commitment to HPV. As with the previous, please move this under full commitment to ICCA.

- Page 147 - Solvay Interlox appears for only epichlorohydrin, and under HPV. They are sponsoring both epichlorohydrin and 1,2,3-trichloropropane under ICCA. A letter from Mr. Lynne Harris at SPI was sent to Dr. Oscar Hernandez on or about October 20, 2000 to add them to the consortium for 1,2,3-trichloropropane.

- Page 256 - SPI appears for both chemicals and correctly lists the consortia members for epichlorohydrin, but Solvay Interlox (see above bullet) should also be noted under 1,2,3-trichloropropane.

- Also on page 256 for SPI, 201-01339 <c01339.htm> is a commitment letter for another consortium under SPI and is not associated with either epichlorohydrin or 1,2,3-trichloropropane and should be removed here. It correctly appears under the SPI/OPPSD commitment.

Please let me know if you have any questions or if you need more information before these changes can be made; I will be in touch on the others. Thank you in advance for your assistance.

Regards,
Marie
